Call for Papers

The Sixth International Conference on the Mental Lexicon brings together psycholinguistic, neurolinguistic, and computational research on the representation and processing of words in the mind/brain. The conference encourages a variety of perspectives on lexical representation and processing.

We are currently accepting abstract submissions for platform and poster presentations. The conference will include both 15-minute platform presentations and poster sessions on each day. The language of the conference is English.

One-page abstracts should be sent as MS Word documents to menlex6@ualberta.ca by May 9, 2008. Please use the subject line “Menlex6 Abstract”. Please click here for abstract submission requirements.

Acceptance letters will be e-mailed June 9, 2008 following selection by the scientific advisory committee.
